Summer activities

Teddy bear's picnic

Set up your picnic at home or outside, assemble teddies and toys, use real food or pretend and chat about healthy foods and drinks.

Words you can use:

picnic bowl blanket fruit

healthy share sandwich tasty

Which foods will make your bones strong?

Talk to your child about what food is healthy for them and why we should choose these foods. Do they know which food will help their bones grow big and strong and which food will give them muscles to run fast?

Visit Derby Museum and Art Gallery

Arouse your curiosity and inspire your imagination by visiting Derby Museum and Art Gallery. There's something new to discover and learn about for everyone.

Words you can use:

look old new explore find listen

history past now museum

What is the best thing about the museum?

Encourage your child to explore the different areas of the museum, talk together about the interesting things they see. Why not encourage your child to ask a volunteer for more information about what interests them?

Hubble bubble

Mix up a potion with water and add different materials from the garden. What happens when you mix them together? Is it a witch's brew? Is it magic for superheroes?

Words you can use:

dish mix stir smooth spoon make potion perfume bottles shake smell

What ingredients are in your potion?

Let your child choose what to put in their potion and as they mix their ingredients together, comment on what they are doing and how the mixture changes as they stir. They will learn that what they do can change the way the potion, looks, feels and smells. Water makes it runny and thin, however soil makes it thick and gloopy.

Hide and seek

Take it in turns to hide or seek. Babies start with peek-a-boo behind hands covering faces. Then start hiding and seeking around the house. It's fun to play indoors or out.

Words you can use:

look here found

hide seek turns coming to find you!

Where is the best hiding place?

Children love to hide and have the excitement of being found! You can hide your face with your hands or a scarf. There will be plenty of giggles when they see you again. As they get older, your child will discover new and different spaces to hide in by themselves. Where will they squeeze themselves into next?

Flying Falcons

Derby Cathedral tower is home to a pair of breeding peregrine falcons. Take a look upwards at the cathedral in May or June to see the birds.

Words you can use:

birds fly feather nest eggs hatch tower

bird of prey falcon fledglings

Can you name some other birds?

This is a great opportunity to come and view the fastest bird in the world. See if you can observe it swooping down from the cathedral to catch its prey. Together you can learn about the falcon's life cycle, what they need to live and grow and how we need to respect them, keep them safe and protect the environment they live in.

Splash!

Go to Chaddesden Park Splash Zone, or the paddling pool at the Mundy Centre in Markeaton Park or simply fill a bowl of water at home. Enjoy playing in the water.

Words you can use:

splish splash splosh paddle wet cold squirt

float sink buoyant

Which one do you think will float?

Playing in water is fun whether it is in the bath or a bucket of water in the garden. Your child can explore the force of water as they pour it from container to container. Talk about what floats and sinks and how water rises when your child gets into it, or they put toys into it. Remember to stay safe around water.

Minibeast hunt

Go on a minibeast hunt to the park or a garden. Look under rocks, piles of leaves or inside logs. Remember to put minibeasts back safely with care.

Words you can use:

bug worm insect buzz ladybird web damp

butterfly cocoon habitat larvae

What other minibeasts are there?

Your child will love to explore the natural world. Encourage your child to peek under stones or bits of old wood and see who lives there. Your child will be curious to watch a ladybird, worm, caterpillar or woodlouse. You can help them think about where the insect lives, how it stays warm and how we should respect living things.

Chalking rainbows

Use chalks outside on a wall or pavement, create shapes and draw, have fun using a variety of colours.

Words you can use:

picture colours chalk rainbow

colouring design size shape

Tell me about your drawing...

Activities like this will help your child to build up large shoulder and arm movements which helps them to develop the coordination needed to support small muscle coordination. The most important part of making marks is the exploration, not what it looks like, so have fun making lots of big marks together.

Play Pooh Sticks

Find a bridge over water. Check which way the water flows, count to three and throw your stick. Watch your stick emerge on the other side. Maybe have a race with two sticks.

Words you can use:

water stick bridge throw long short river

flow fast race longest shortest

Who is going to win the race?

Children love a game that includes anticipation. You and your child can use this game to make comparisons between the shape, length and weight of sticks. You could line up your sticks to see which one is longest and which is the shortest. Then, find out if short or long sticks are the fastest in your game of Pooh Sticks. Remember to stay safe around water.

Make some noise

Listen to the world's sounds - the wind in the trees, ducks on the pond and whispers in ears. Experiment with your own sounds - shushing, shouting and roaring in different places.

Words you can use:

quiet loud bang shout whisper silent louder

echo noisy roar murmur

How does that sound make you feel?

You can support your child's listening skills by exploring sound making together. Create your own natural instruments using 'found objects' such as running a twig along a fence or tapping two pebbles together. Listen to what sounds you can create or just stop and listen to the sounds around you. Which sounds are loud and which sounds are quiet?

Play with sand

Enjoy a sandpit in the garden or use play sand in a washing up bowl. Use cups or bottles to mould, shake and squish sand into many different shapes.

Words you can use:

bucket spade dig sand castle squish build mould heavy light full empty

Tell me how does it feel?

Explore sand with your child and see what they can do with it. Add water to change the texture. Can it be used differently when the sand is damp or dry? They can use everyday items such as spoons, old yoghurt pots or sieves, as tools. Talk to your child about what the sand feels like. Encourage your child to create their own masterpiece.

Kite flying

Help your child design and make a simple kite and decorate it together. Then go outside to have fun running about and flying the kite.

Words you can use:

make kite high string join tape fly

scissors cut flying glide wind

How high do you think it will fly?

Making a kite is a fun way to encourage your child to develop their small muscle coordination by using one handed tools such as scissors or pencils. Talk to your child about their design and the shapes they are creating. Allow them time to independently think, draw and cut out before chatting through how to join the parts together.

Make mood cards

Help your child recognise emotions by using or making mood cards. Talk about emotions and what they mean - happy, sad, excited or worried. Talk about how they feel.

Words you can use:

happy sad sleepy excited cross cheeky

amazed surprised grumpy

How do you feel today?

Helping your child to recognise their emotions is a good way for them to start to understand them. It's important for children to be aware of how different emotions make them feel at different times or in different situations. Understanding the way they feel will help your child to express this to you or another safe person.

Library storytime

Go to one of Derby's many libraries. Listen and enjoy their Storytime or Rhymetime events. Children enjoy sharing books with adults and you can meet new parents and friends.

Words you can use:

listen look book story page turn

characters start end

Tell me about the story...

Encouraging children to listen and respond to books and nursery rhymes is a great way to build up their listening skills and introduce new words. You can talk to your child about what you can see on the page, the characters in the story, what they did and how they felt. Find out and enjoy the events at your local library.

Hopscotch

Chalk some squares on the ground and fill in some numbers. Find a pebble or bean bag to throw on one of the squares and hop to it to play hopscotch.

Words you can use:

throw up down hop sit stand

jump balance high low

Which square do you need to jump to next?

Playing hopscotch is a fun game where your child uses their large muscle skills to move around the area. Children can explore movement through hopping, jumping, or stepping. Try and make this more complex as they develop their confidence such as hopping on one foot or balancing on the square.

Make a den!

Make a den, indoors or outdoors, use a blanket or sheet between two chairs, go behind the sofa and make a roof or use a box to hide underneath.

Words you can use:

blanket den build tall box

cover construct shape size

What do we need to make a den?

Making a den allows children to use their imagination and build a fun place to play and hide. Listen to and encourage your child to create and design the space they want and then support them to build it. Let them explore different materials freely and develop their own ideas about how to use them.

Clip-clip bridge

Share the 'Billy Goats Gruff' story with your child and then find a bridge to both pretend to be billy goats. Clip clop loudly, clip clop softly.

Words you can use:

stamp clip-clop bridge goats tip-toe

heavy loud clatter troll

Can you clip-clop like a goat?

Sharing books together is a fantastic way to build your child's imagination. Plan a trip out to bring the 'Billy Goats Gruff' story to life. Take the book along and read the story again. Act out any of the pages together and play different parts. Regularly looking at books together is a great way for your child to learn new vocabulary.
