

Biking

Judith Nicholls

Fingers grip,
toes curl;
head down,
wheels whirl.

Hair streams,
fields race;
ears sting,
winds chase.

Breath deep,
troubles gone;
just feel
windsong.

Taken from The Puffin Book of Fantastic First Poems page 73