An example is the Mission X website:

"If you are looking for fun, easy, space-themed activities to complete, you have come to the right place!"

Mission X: Train Like an Astronaut is also open for families, not just school groups. You can join the ongoing Walk to the Moon Challenge and complete Mission X activities to earn points and help Luna and Leo walk to the Moon. "

Clay Creators

Clay Creators, who usually hold after school clubs at Markeaton, have set up an online, at-home programme during this unsettled time.

They hope that the children will enjoy doing some fun activities that are familiar to them.

If you go to their website <https://claycreators.com/> and click 'Free Activities' you'll find some video model plans and lots of related activities. We've included their flyer below.

Relate Counselling

Relate Derby has been commissioned by NHS England to provide counselling services for free to residents of Derby and Derbyshire.

Due to social distancing measures, services are being delivered remotely via video call and telephone. The services available are:

- IAPT (Improving Access to Psychological Therapies) counselling for couples and young people (16 – 18 years)
- Support for children and young people's (age 5 – 8 years) emotional health and wellbeing
- Counselling for people affected by Autism Spectrum Condition (ASC)

The free Relate telephone helpline (0808 178 9363) has also been extended and is now running on Monday, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10.00am – 1.00pm. The helpline gives people the opportunity to speak directly to an experienced Relate trained counsellor, without having to make an appointment.

Please signpost clients, customers, friends and family to Relate, if you think they would benefit from this. It's OK not to be OK.
