Care Curiosity Determination

10.5.24

Finally...finally, a bit of warm weather has arrived! It's been lovely this week (hence the numerous photos of the outdoors on X) but it still never ceases to amaze me how many children we have seen wearing three or more layers whilst running round the field! As always, please make sure your child comes to school with suncream applied and a large water bottle when it's hot outside (and just remind them to take their jumper or cardigan off when the sun is out!) 😊

Whilst on the topic of summer, children in FS2 (top left) have been making fruit salads. They looked absolutely delicious and the smiley faces tell you they had a great time cutting the fruit and arranging it in their pots.

Middle left children in Y5 were making best use of the outdoor calm space. The children have been tasked with naming this area so all being well a sign will go up in the next week or so. A parent has very kindly offered to repaint the mural during the summer holidays so watch this space for any further updates.

Bottom left children were designing and constructing buildings to withstand an earthquake! I am told that some of the designs were creative and effective – one of them was built like a rocking chair!

And finally, a questionnaire is going out tonight about a possible car boot sale at school. Let us know if you are keen and we will try to make it happen! Good luck to our Y6s who will be sitting their SATs tests next week. We are all incredibly proud of you – now go and enjoy your weekends 😊

Have a lovely weekend,

Mr E Johnson
