

Weekly Word

13.5.2022

To all Parents/Carers

I have to start this week's Weekly Word with a special well done to all of our Y6 children. This week they have had their SATs tests and we are all agreed that they have been absolutely amazing and we are incredibly proud of them all.

It's the first time SATs tests have been administered since the pandemic and despite this, and everything else they have had to deal with over the past couple of years, they have shown remarkable resilience and determination.

Thank you also to parents/carers who said that their child had felt relaxed throughout the week and how much they enjoyed the delicious SATs breakfast provided by our incredible kitchen staff! Top left you can see the Y6 classes on the field enjoying an enormous game of capture the flag – not a bad way to unwind after a tough week!

In Y3/4 the children have been learning all about earthquakes and this is the outcome; another fine example of how creative our curriculum is and how much children enjoy their lessons!

Bottom left we have more outdoor learning in the forest school area. Here the children's Guided Reading book, The Great Chocoplot by Chris Callaghan, inspired them to create their own cocoa pods!

And finally, if you haven't already, please can you complete the survey about PE Kit. The uniform providers (Morley's) are coming in next Tuesday.

Have a lovely weekend and enjoy the sun ☺
