To all Parents/Carers,

Well, there you have it – another half term done and dusted in the blink of an eye! It'll be Easter before we know it!

On Tuesday and Wednesday the Y3 and Y4 classes were visited by an Egyptologist – someone who studies Ancient Egypt and someone who has lived in Egypt too! He was brilliant and the children learned loads – not least how to mummify someone using toilet roll! It's not as easy as it looks...

Middle left, children in Y2 have been looking at Chinese New Year and Chinese New Year dragons. Using a spot of AI on their tablet devices they have created some fantastic designs 😊

Whilst on the topic of Art, children in Y6 have been exploring different skills for drawing hands. As you can see from this montage, they have done an exceptional job and the level of detail is superb.

In other news, a huge thank you to everyone who donated school uniform for our 'uniform grab' on Friday. We are really grateful for your generosity and it was ace to see so many people involved. This is something we hope to do at the end of every half term so please feel free to donate as and when – especially PE Hoodies in house colours.

And finally, we have had unanimously positive feedback about the music in the mornings and the effect it has had. It started during Mental Health Week and it will continue after half term (not every day though as we don't want it to lose its impact!).

Have a lovely half term (or see you at the discos later!)

Mr Johnson
