Care Curiosity Determination

16.2.2024

To all Parents/Carers,

Another great half term passes us by! We are well and truly into 2024 now and it's as busy as ever.

Top left is our first entry into the Young Artists' Competition. We have advertised this for the last four years and we have had artwork put forward for the actual exhibition in London (plus lots for the online exhibition). So, it is well worth submitting something – see last week's parentmail for details of how to submit.

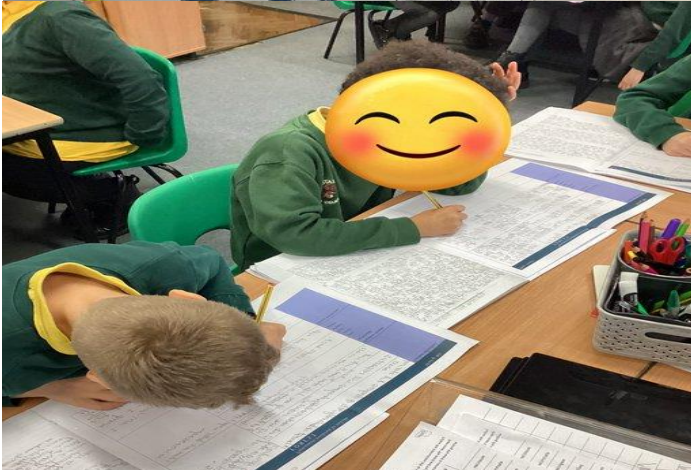

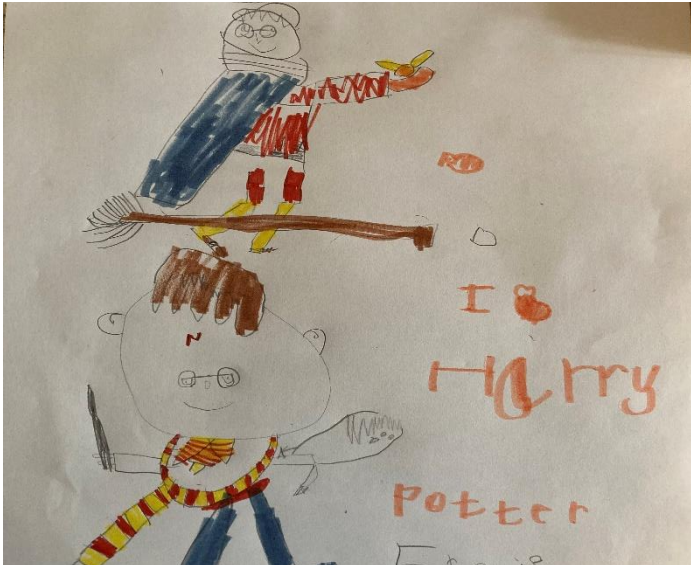

Middle left we have children in Y4 busy writing their persuasive letters to Stoick the Vast (through the eyes of Hiccup). To many of you this won't mean a great deal but for the Y4s, it is all linked to the class text they have been reading. Whilst on the theme of writing, every week one child from each class is chosen as Presentation Champion. If their work is well presented or contains neat handwriting which shows high levels of effort then they get a special certificate!

Bottom left children in FS2 have been painting Mandarin numerals onto special Chinese writing paper. Love this! You can see the level of concentration in their faces, it was tricky to get the hang of!

And finally, a great photo of the Y3/4 Choir in action! They sounded great 😊

Have a lovely half term...

Mr I. Johnson
