

Weekly Word

8.9.2023

To all Parents/Carers,

It's only been a short week but the children have managed to cram an awful lot of learning into a few days! And what about this weather, where was this in the Summer holidays!?!

Top left we have children in Y1 experiencing their very own mud kitchen (as part of our new continuous provision setup). Much of Y1 now resembles the approach to learning in FS2; mainly because we feel this is a good hybrid approach and allows some critical learning to take place in an environment they are familiar with. I am sure there will be more photos to follow in the coming weeks.

Middle left we have our new Y6 children taking part in a science experiment whereby they had to protect an egg from breaking when dropped from a height – easier said than done!

Bottom left, the children in Y2 had a visit from Little Red Riding Hood. She answered questions, talked to the children about her life and generally brought the story to life!

In other news, a separate message has been added to the Friday email regarding PE Kits. A final decision on this will be made next week with any changes coming into effect on Monday 18th September.

Finally, this is another plea for any children's dressing up costumes you may have lying in the back of your cupboard!

Our outdoor stage continues to be well used and now we have an outdoor wardrobe for props, other bits and pieces and said costumes. All donations greatly received!

Have a lovely weekend

Mr I. Johnson
